

Press Release: Ecotrode Gel – maintenance-free gel electrode with aging indicator

Date: 20th August 2010

Metrohm introduces the Ecotrode Gel – the new maintenance-free electrode for pH measurement and titration. The new aging indicator tells users at a glance, if the sensor is still good for use. The main properties of the Ecotrode Gel:

- maintenance-free electrolytes: refilling or checking the electrolyte not necessary
- aging indicator: decolorization of the white electrode gel tells users exactly when replacement of the sensor is due
- ideal for routine measurements
